The man who could run a newspaper to suit everybody went to heaven long ago.

Encourage your daughter in her chosen vocation. It may be her life work.

An ordinary woman's waist is thirty inches around. An ordinary man's arm is about thirty inches long. How admirable are thy works, oh, nature!

The man who expects to get to heaven ought to pay his subscription for the local paper and not tempt the poor mortal of an editor to swear. Honesty counts with St. Peter.

Plans for the largest and most powerful battleships ever built for the American navy were signed Monday by Secretary Daniels. The vessels will be provided with new safeguards against torpedoes.

An advertisement is to a merchant very much what sowing seed is to a farmer. It may take a little time for the results to become apparent, but they are sure to come. The wise farmer is not niggardly with his seed, nor the wise merchant with his advertisement.

The way the yard sticks rattled, hardware jingled and our merchants and clerks moved around Saturday indicated a lively day for our business men; and the people that thronged our thoroughfares were delighted in the bargains they had pocketed, and the general verdict is this is the place to trade.

DOTY FARM NOT SOLD.

The Alex Doty farm advertised for sale last Thursday failed to sell for lack of bidders. This is one of the best farms in the county and will probably be sold soon. The stock and farming implements sold very low.

YELLOW DOGS.

The Lancaster kennel of Yellow Dogs have held several interesting meetings during the last week and quite a number of new members have been added. The order here has grown rapidly and now has a membership of nearly four hundred.

SOME STALKS.

A hemp stalk twenty feet high was brought to this office by Jim House and is a record breaker so far as we know for height. Luther Raney, of Poor Ridge takes the rag off the bush with a stalk of corn that measures fifteen and ten inches.

SUTTON

Woodrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sutton, died at the home of his parents on Sunday. Deceased was two years old. The funeral services were held at the grave in the Lancaster cemetery by Rev. J. Rockwell Smith. The Record extends sympathy to this bereaved family in their hour of trouble.

RETURNS TO GARRARD

Mr. E. W. Perkins who has lived in Nicholasville for the past few years has sold his interests in that city and will return to the county of his birth, he having recently purchased the John Woods farm in lower Garrard. This is a splendid farm and was purchased worth the money, although the price was private.

THE JUDGE ENJOYED IT.

Quite a little merriment was created at the Roman's Opera House last Monday night at the expense of Judge Prather during the dancing act of some pretty girls. Judge Prather was perfectly contented on the back seat of the theater during the time the pictures were being shown, but just as soon as the beautiful young ladies appeared on the stage in their dancing costume, the Judge immediately came forward and took a front seat. It was a case where distance did not lend enchantment to the Judge.

It is to be made of a large red granite boulder found in Warren county, which Boone selected as his last resting place. It is planned to dedicate the marker Oct. 29 at the close of a conference of the Missouri Daughters which is to be held in St. Louis.

Only Four Remain In Wealthy Kentucky Settlement.

Four elderly and infirm persons are the only occupants of the immensely valuable Shaker settlement, one of the few remaining colonies of the sect, near Harrodsburg. Sisters Christine Johnson 84, and Martha Olson, 87, died one day recently within the hour.

Shakertown, now so sparsely settled, once was a flourishing town, with manufacturing and various business enterprises and controlling rich adjacent farm lands.

Even now the property is valued at millions. Recently a trustee was appointed to manage the affairs of the colonists.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM

To Be Thoroughly Overhauled.

Mr. J. B. Cornn, manager of the Bastin Telephone Company is making extensive plans for the installation within the next sixty days of the Metallic Double wire system on all phones controlled by the company. All wires within the city of Lancaster will be distributed by cable, with insulated wires. This will do away with the inconvenience of crossed wires, and the double wire system will insure good service for long distance calls.

Mr. Cornn has been inspecting offices throughout the state and getting suggestions for best serving his patrons. It is estimated that the work will cost $6000. Mr. Cornn is being assisted by Mr. W. A. Jamieson, of Atlanta, an expert telephone man.

STATE PRESS MEETING.

The Executive Committee of The Kentucky Press Association will meet in call session at Secretary's office at the State Fair at Louisville next Friday to fix the date of the Mid-Winter meeting for the State Editors, and to transact other matters of importance to the Association. The Committee is composed of the following editors: Col. R. J. McBryde, Louisville Times; Woodson May, Somerset Journal; B. F. Forgy, Ashland Independent; F. M. Thompson, Georgetown Times; Curtis Alcock, Jeffersonian; R. L. Elkin, Lancaster Record.

The Mid-Winter meeting will be held in Lexington this year and the time will probably be during Christmas week. The Board of Commerce of Lexington has promised the Kentucky Editors the best time of their lives at the Mid-Winter meeting, and all look forward to the time with much pleasure.

VIOLATIONS OF LAW.

Many owners of automobiles in this city violate the law with impunity. A great many of them seem to be speed crazy and drive through the streets as if they were on a speed-way. They act as if pedestrians and others had no rights upon our streets and they alone had the right of way. A great number cut around the corners and never give any warning of their approach. Some go speeding over streets at night without lights, and very few automobiles have rear lights, which the law provides for. Now, we are not knockers and fault finders, but simply call the attention to the officers to the flagrant violations of the law governing motor vehicles.

The noise made by these machines near the churches during services is a nuisance and should be abated. Of course no one does this purposely. But can't it be cut out en-irely? - Ricemond Climax-Medisonian.

SIC 'EM HARVEY.

Eighth Congressional District Democratic politics is showing considerable activity and there promises to be no dearth to those willing to fall heir to Congressman George G. Gilbert. It is regarded as a certainty that County Judge Ralph W. Gilbert, of Shelby county, will shy his castor in the ring for the Democratic nomination at the proper time. He is a son of former Congressman George G. Gilbert, who represented the Eighth district in Congress three terms, and he has for some time had his eyes on the seat once held by his father. Judge Gilbert is well known and prominently connected throughout the district. - W. S. K. in Louisville Times.

Attorney General James Garnett is tipped as a certain entry into the Congressional race in the Eighth District next year. Jim is a popular fellow who makes friends wherever he goes and if he enters the race will be hard to beat. - Elizabethtown News.

GRAND JURY COMPLIMENTS UNCLE DAVE.

Before the final adjourning of the grand jury last week, they went to the jail in a body to investigate the sanitary conditions there and found everything in such fine shape, that they were very profuse with bouquets showered on "Uncle Dave" and so reported to the court. This compliment was richly deserved for Lancaster has one of the best jailors in the state and we are proud of him.

AUSTRIAN AMBASSADOR RECALLED.

The recall by his Government of Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to the United States, has been requested by the American Government. By reason of his admitted purpose to conspire to cripple the manufacture of munitions of war and his employment of an American citizen as the secret bearer of the official dispatches through the lines of an enemy of Austria-Hungary, President Wilson directed the American Ambassador at Vienna to inform the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister that Dr. Dumba was no longer acceptable as an Ambassador, and to request his recall. The dispatch to the American Ambassador gives assurances to the Austro-Hungarian Government that the American Government regrets the necessity for this course, and sincerely desires to continue on friendly relations with it.

BIBLE SERVICES

He expressed a desire to speak at different times during his meetings here, to the members of the various lodges, he himself being an Odd Fellow, Mason and Knights Of Pythias. Arrangements have been made for him to address the Odd Fellows next Wednesday night.

The choir has been arranged in the balcony of the church and the singing will be one of the features of this delightful meeting. Services are held every night at 7:30 and every afternoon at 3 o'clock except on Saturday afternoon. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

VOTE FOR TOM BALLARD.

For Sheriff

To the voters of Garrard County:- It is generally known that the late Curt A. Robinson was elected sheriff of Garrard county by one of the largest majorities ever given any man, and that George T. Ballard Jr., was his chief deputy, George T. Ballard Sr., his father, being a partner with Mr. Robinson in the emoluments or fees of the office. If Mr. Ballard is elected for the two years, yet remaining of the term, he is pledged, and justly so, to give the widow of Mr. Robinson half the profits or fees of the office, which as certainly belong to her as any property he left her. The truth is, an office is a most sacred property right, being bestowed by the people, the highest authority, and it would be the grossest injustice to deprive the holders of such property of their rights. It is not believed that the voters of Garrard county will overlook the principles of justice and equity in this race. If the office belonged to Robinson and Ballard before Mr. Robinson's death, the remainder of the term belongs to Ballard and Mr. Robinson's widow.

If the voters will calmly consider this, as a matter of right and justice, they will not recall or revoke what they have done, and Tom Ballard will be elected by an overwhelming majority. Adv. Fair Play.

AUGUST CROP REPORT

Issued September 10, 1915.

The crop season for 1915 is fast drawing to a close and the conditions have been throughout very unusual. There have been more rainy days and cold, damp, soggy weather than any season of which this Department has a record. Crops have been damaged from the excessive moisture and by wind storms. The two largest money crops in Kentucky are corn and tobacco. Both of these have grown without the proper cultivation, and in general have been damaged by rain and wind, and no one can accurately predict just what the final yields and quality of either of these crops will be.

The reports to this office show the condition of corn to be 92 per cent, which is above the average. Many reports, however, state that much of the corn will be damaged when the harvesting time comes as the result of being so badly blown. The Burley tobacco condition is given at 78.5 per cent, that of Dark tobacco at 81. Tobacco is being rapidly housed, and warm clear weather is needed for properly curing it in the barns. The hemp crop is greatly improved and the condition is given at 94 per cent. Very large crops of cow peas and soy beans have been planted, and their condition is given at 87 and 88, respectively. Garden conditions remain good at 92. Pastures are in splendid condition. Bluegrass is given a condition of 95 per cent, clover 92, alfalfa 91 and orchard grass 88. Fruit is only in fair condition, apples 82 per cent, grapes 81, pears 74 and peaches 71. Much complaint of fruit trees breaking under their heavy load as a result of the storms have been made. Live stock is doing well—horses are given a condition of 94 per cent, cattle 95, sheep 93 and hogs 92. Cholera exists at several points in the state, and black leg at a few. Poultry is suffering as a result of the continued wet weather. There is not more than 80 per cent of a turkey crop.

Kentuckians have never known a season that illustrates the value of the silo more than the present one. Fortunately indeed is the farm, who is able to put his uncured alfalfa or clover in a silo during these rains, or who will be able to take care of his corn after it is blown to the ground. Many farmers report that the silo is the salvation of their crops this year. As predicted in the last crop report, the indications are that the farmers will not have a record breaking year in any line, but will have a large supply of forage crops for the winter with a reasonably good corn and tobacco crop. With pastures furnishing feed in abundance for the fall, the live stock should go into the winter in a healthy, splendid condition. Taken as a whole the prospects for the year are above the average.

J. W. NEWMAN,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

Nervous?

Mrs. Walter Vincent, of Pleasant Hill, N. C., writes: "For three summers I suffered from nervousness, dread pains in my back and sides, and weak sinking spells. Three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, relieved me entirely. I feel like another person, now."

TAKE

Cardui

The Woman's Tonic

For over 50 years, Cardui has been helping to relieve women's unnecessary pains and building weak women up to health and strength. It will do the same for you, if given a fair trial. So, don't wait, but begin taking Cardui today, for its use cannot harm you, and should surely do you good. E-72

DAIRY WISDOM.

At this time of the year there is usually a beginning of a shortage in pastures. Start the extra feed before the cows shrink in milk flow.

Grain or soiling crops should be fed to supplement the shortage in the pasture.

The true dairy cow is easily affected by unfavorable conditions. It pays in hard cash to keep conditions right.

Do not let the rush of harvest work interfere with the regularity in the care and milking of the dairy herd.

Be sure that the cows have plenty of clean water to drink. Cut off the water supply and you cut off the milk supply.

FALL VERSUS SPRING FRESHENING OF COWS

It is the practice among good dairymen to carry cows three or four months over the regular lactation period when it is desired to change their time of freshening, says Hoard's Dairymen. There will be a slight shrinkage in the daily milk flow, and there is some danger that the cow may not breed as readily as if bred shortly after freshening.

A calf born during the fall months will do better, as a rule, than those born at other times of the year. The fall born calf can be kept growing through the winter, and when grass comes in the spring it can be weaned.

The one great feature in which Holstein cows excel is the production of milk. This capacity for production in some individuals of that breed has been phenomenal and would, indeed, be almost unbelievable were it not for undisputed official tests. Good Holstein cows, properly fed and cared for, should each give forty to fifty pounds of milk per day or from 8,000 to 10,000 pounds in their milking year. Of course some Holsteins give a great deal more. The cow shown is a Holstein.

and turned to pasture. The calf, as a rule, will receive better care in the winter, because there is not the insistent pressure of crop work that demands first attention. Taken all in all the fall calf will be larger and more vigorous when it is a year old than a spring or summer calf.

We consider fall freshening superior for the following reasons:

First.—The cow will produce more milk. There is an old saying that a cow fresh in the fall is twice fresh in the season—that is, if she has been properly cared for she comes to a full flow of milk when the calf is born, will maintain this flow fairly well during the winter and when put to pasture will again increase her production to nearly the amount first given, going dry when flies become troublesome, the weather warm and pasture short.

Second.—The cow will make her largest production during the period of high prices for butter fat. Of course feed costs may be somewhat higher, but not enough, as a rule, to offset this advantage.

Third.—On most farms the heaviest labor comes in the summer, and having the cows milking heaviest in the fall and winter months helps to equalize labor during the year.

Fourth.—Fall calves do best. Spring freshening may be of advantage where it is desired to have a steady flow of milk throughout the year in order to supply market milk. It may also be of advantage where the pastures are good and can be had at relatively low cost.

Value of Good Dairy Blood.

The probabilities are that not to exceed 5 per cent of all the cows in any one state are pure in breeding, says the Kansas Farmer. We hear a great deal about these pure bred cows because they are the results of the ability of men highly trained along dairy breeding lines. The grade cow is the cow that is producing the bulk of the dairy products, but this grade cow could not exist and become better each year if it were not for the constant infusions of blood from the herds of pure breeding.

Rye For Silage.

Rye should be cut for silage when in blossom and the most advanced heads are in the dough stage. As the grain begins to ripen and get hard the stems get hollow, and it is very difficult to make a good grade of silage under these conditions. When put into the silo it should be cut into one-quarter to one-half inch length. If dry it should be wet in order to help pack the silage.

Foot and Mouth Disease Costly. Altogether more than 124,000 animals have been killed because of foot and mouth epidemic. The loss is between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000. This expense has been shared by the federal and the several state governments. The disease is now virtually wiped out, although sporadic cases of the disease may be expected.

SCHOOL NOTES.

BY WILL RICE AMON.

Misses Mary Clay Williams and Florence Johnson were visitors at our school Monday.

Robinson Cook, Glass Carrier and Bert Embry visited our school Wednesday morning.

Mrs. W. R. Todd's class of Expression, now numbers about nine pupils with prospects of many more.

Miss Patsy Anderson of the class of '14, visited the school Tuesday morning before going to enter Normal School.

Rev. S. H. Pollitt visited the school Wednesday morning and conducted the devotional exercises. He also gave a helpful talk.

Glass Carrier, Paul and Milton Elliott all of the class of '15, left Monday for Transylvania University. Robinson Cook, Harry Raney and Bert Embry left Friday for Millersburg Military Institute.

"The Elopement of Ellen" a home talent play, given at the School Auditorium, Friday evening was quite a success. It was a high-class play and all the parts were well played. The recitations and singing between the acts were especially good.

Oh, the autumn time is pleasant. When the leaves begin to fall. But the doggone politician, Butting in, will spoil it all.

CLOVER RAISING.

Everything is the best in Kentucky according to the late Judge Mulligan, but there are some things that we do not excel in, among them is that valuable soil builder, crimson clover. Except in Christian county, where G. F. Morgan introduced it, and Warren where Morgan Hughes is behind it—no, before it—this state grows very little of this crop. Crimson clover is great as a soil-builder. It makes a splendid winter cover crop, fine pasture, imparts much nitrogen to the soil and lots of humus to turn under if it is not cut for hay. Where this clover is grown for plowing under there is no need to purchase nitrogen for a succeeding crop. It is one of the best of our catch crops and superb for winter covering of the land. Why it is not grown more extensively is a problem—perhaps our farmers do not know its value. It can be sowed on almost any soil during August and is well fitted to sow in cornfields.—Kentucky Farmer.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I advised the 'boys' when they enlisted for the Spanish war to take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with them, and have received many thanks for the advice given," writes J. H. Houghland, Eldon Iowa. "No person whether traveling or at home should be without this great remedy." For sale by all dealers.

FINDS NO REMEDY

EQUAL TO TANLAC.

William H. Howard Says He Tried Everything Else Without Help.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15th.—William
H. Howard, who lives at 225 West Jefferson street, here, and is widely known as an advertising man, is one of those who declares he has been greatly benefited by Tanlac, the premier preparation.

"For a long time," he said recently,
"I suffered from a catarrhal affection of the stomach, and I never have found anything which did me so much good as Tanlac. I had used pretty nearly everything before my friends recommended Tanlac to me. It helped me almost at once, and I am glad to offer
public testimony to its value."

Chronic catarrh, which affects the mucus membranes, is one of the most prevalent and distressing maladies known. The trouble is almost universal. Offensive breath, coughing, nervousness, sneezing, headaches, poor digestion, loss of appetite, unsound sleep and susceptibility to colds are among the results from the malady.

Tanlac has proved of special value in the treatment of catarrhal troubles.
Hundreds have testified to the good it has done them. It is now being sold in Lancaster at R. E. McRoberts drug store and in Bryansville at Becker, Ballard & Scott.

HARMONY THAT MEANS SUCCESS.

There is nothing that could be more encouraging to Democrats than the spirit of harmony that is spreading through their ranks. By the first of November there will be universal peace
among the brethren. That will mean an old-fashioned Democratic majority.

ALFALFA KING IS DEAD HAD BEEN U. S. AGENT.

Marion O. Sept. 11—Joseph E.
Wing, 54, of Mechanicsburg, died at the C. S. Sawyer Sanitarium here last night of pellagra.

Wing was the special agent of the United States in all its investigation through South America and was the "alfalfa king" of the country. In view of his extensive agricultural investigations, Wing had been entertained by many of the leaders of Europe.
He came back from South America a year ago suffering from pellagra. He came here seven weeks ago. He is survived by his widow.

Mr. Wing will be remembered here,
where he addressed to farmers Institute
on the subject of alfalfa.

thing which will help the individual members, help the town, and especially at this time when every step toward a larger army will help in National preparation, it is something in which every patriotic citizen should co-operate. Let

JUDGE WALKER

Invades Enemy's Country.

The Republican headquarters have announced their speaking dates for September and Judge Lewis L. Walker has been sent to Western Kentucky to speak in behalf of the ticket and for his election to the Lieut. Governor-ship. He opened his campaign at Glasgow yesterday, and will speak every day until the close of the campaign. Judge Walker will speak at Henderson, Mr. Stanley's home town
Sept. 20th.

LUCIEN GRANT

APPOINTED TO ANNAPOLIS.

Word was received here Thursday that Lucien N. Grant, who passed his mental examinations for the Naval Academy with honors a few weeks ago,
had failed to pass the physical examinations on account of two bad teeth.
Friends here at once got in communication with Senator James and the matter was straightened out with the Surgeon General. Lucien's many friends here congratulate him on his success, and that he will make a good record in his chosen profession goes without saying.

The following is from the Courier-
Journal:

"Two molar teeth proved stumbling blocks to Lucien N. Grant, of Lancaster, when he sought admission to the United States Naval Academy, until Senator James used his good offices and obtained the coveted appointment for the Kentuckian.

Several weeks ago Mr. Grant passed successfully the mental examination for admission to Annapolis, but when the naval surgeons looked him over they found "his physical fitness was impaired" by the loss of two necessary molars. They reported that his physical condition was not up to the mark and for a time it looked like the candidate would not receive the appointment to be midshipman.

Mr. Grant, as a last resort, appealed to Senator James, who took the matter up with the Surgeon General of the Navy. To-day Secretary Daniels announced the appointment of the Kentuckian.

Mr. Grant will matriculate tomorrow
as a fourth-class man—or "youngster"
in the vernacular of the Naval Academy—at Annapolis."

DEMOCRATS OPEN CAMPAIGN At Glasgow September 20th.

The Democratic campaign will be opened at Glasgow on Monday, September 20, according to a decision reached Saturday by the State Campaign Committee at a conference with the nominees at the Galt House.

A. O. Stanley, candidate for Governor, and Judge James D. Black, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, will be the principal speakers.

All of the Democratic candidates
with the exception of Matt S. Cohen, nominee for Commissioner of Agriculture, were present at the meeting, over which Judge S. W. Hager, chairman of the campaign committee, presided. Each of those present made a speech, declaring without exception that harmony and enthusiasm had been found to be in evidence wherever he had visited.

Mr. Stanley attended the session
after having spent a strenuous day, making one speech in the afternoon at Latonia to Democrats of Kenton and Campbell counties and another in the evening at Phoenix Hill Park.

Judge Hager announced that the Glasgow meeting would be held in connection with a barbecue and all-day jollification, during which all of the local candidates would make talks.
After September 25, he said, meetings
would be held in some part of the State every day up to the time of the election in November.

Save for the assignment of duties to the various candidates and a general discussion of plans, no further business of importance was transacted by the committee. Judge Hager said that other speaking dates would be decided upon and announced later.

JACK J. PURSLEY

(DAKOTA JACK)

The Only White Man In The United States Advertising and Selling Indian Remedies.

Lancaster, Ky., Sept. 16, 1915.
To My Friends in Garrard County.
For the past three years I have been advertising and selling my Indian Remedies in the southern states and I have made a big success. Seven years ago
I sold my first medicine, after coming to Kentucky in Lancaster. I was then a stranger to everybody here, and every body strange to me, and no doubt at that time my remedies were branded by some people as a fake. But I am proud to say my business not only in Garrard and adjoining counties, but all over Kentucky has grown from nothing to a big business, and today I ship
my remedies all over the United States.

My success in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Florida has been a success and is continuing to grow. I have now started to advertise and work Virginia, starting in at Bristol, where I had a big sale, in fact, one of my banner towns. I made some miraculous cures in Bristol with my Remedy, Pursley's Indian Herbs, that almost looked impossible, and it made some of the best and leading physicians stop and take notice and one prominent Doctor said to me, "You have us all beat". People for miles all over the country called at Turner's Drug Store in Bristol to see me and seldom ever left without buying my medicine. This great agitation was caused by some wonderful cures of Rheumatism, Stomach and Kidney troubles made on prominent and well known people of Bristol and surrounding county. The people of Garrard county now know me and they all know my remedies and the more they know them the better they sell. Just think steady for a minute and see how many new medicines have sprung up and been advertised in Lancaster in the last seven years, and see how quick they have all died away.

And my Remedies are still living and more alive today than ever. Today I counted six new medicines that have sprung up here in the last seven years
and today the druggists will tell you they never have a call for them. But Pursley's Indian Remedies are like sugar and coffee, they all have a steady sale on them, not only here but all over the country. Last Monday at Stanford Garrard county say to a friend of his,
"you buy that medicine, if it don't do the work I will pay for it". The man bought it. The gentleman who was talking didn't know I heard him. Late in the evening I spoke to him about what I heard him say, he says "I caused three men to buy your Remedies today that I knew needed them, I have tried it and I know what it will do."

No doubt the man I am speaking of will read this and know who I am talking about, and again I thank him.

My territory is large, no one owns a dollar in this business except myself and I have the whole world to work in.
I would like to stay in Lancaster more than I do but it's impossible. I will leave in a very few days for Roanoke, Virginia, where I will be for some time
from the front there to Richmond Va.,
and so on until I work the whole state.
Now for a few weeks, every issue of the Central Record I will publish some statements made by some people who suffered and were cured by my Remedies, and you can readily see why my sales are increasing from day to day.

I feel that I should do something for my friends, relatives and neighbors in Garrard county, so each week read what my medicine has done for others.
It may suit your case and may be worth hundreds of dollars to you for good health certainly is better than money
to any one.

For a few weeks I am going to do something for Garrard county people I never do for anyone else. I am going to do this as a donation to people who have used my medicine and people who have not. Dakota Jack's Cow Boy Liniment is a wonder for all pain and deafness, rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, toothache, sprains, burns, bruisees, or any kind of soreness. Its the quickest and greatest relief known and there are plenty of people who will never be without it in their house again
after once trying it.

FREE — FREE

For a few weeks to every one who purchases a 45 Days Treatment of Pursley's Indian Herbs for $1.00 at
J. E. Stormes Drug Store,
Lancaster, Ky., or Boone Sanders General Store, Hubbie.

They will give you FREE of charge,
a Bottle of COW BOY LINIMENT.
This is not thinking or trying to make it appear that you don't get your money's worth when you pay a dollar for the 45 days treatment for it will be worth several hundred to you if you suffer with blood diseases, rheumatism, kidney troubles, stomach troubles, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness,
female troubles or general broken down system. I am just giving you the Liniment Free to show you what it is and as a remembrance to my friends.
Thanking you each and every one for past favors, and wishing you well, also hoping to meet those that I won't get to see while in Lancaster this time, some other day.

I am as ever your friend,
J. J. PURSLEY,
(Dakota Jack).

THE LAW OF THE ROAD.

"When a vehicle is overtaken by another vehicle, the driver of which desires to pass the other, the driver on the farmer, upon being informed of such desire, shall bear to the right, and the driver of the latter to the left, until the latter shall have passed. Any driver failing to do so shall be fined ten ($10) dollars."—Section 61, State road law.

This section of the road law may be invoked against drivers who imagine that making way for the driver of the faster vehicle is a matter of courtesy and that those who have no inclination toward courtesy need not be courteous.

There are many drivers of horse-drawn vehicles, especially drivers of utility wagons heavy and light, who decline to respond to the signals of automobilists who would pass them when they overtake them. It often is dangerous to try to drive around a vehicle which stubbornly holds the middle of the road in defiance of signals. Many accidents are caused by such attempts.

Drivers of automobiles whose signals are defied by drivers who prefer not to inconvenience themselves by "bearing to the right," to allow the faster vehicle to pass should ascertain the names of offenders and have them prosecuted for violation of the road law. Such lawlessness is quite common upon all roads. In the interest of safety and of comfort it should be suppressed rigidly.

KAISER, WAR HERO, ENTERS THE FORTRESS OF NOVOGEORGIEVSK

Correspondent Describes Great Martial Spectacle After
the Stronghold Fell.

Military Experts Say That Grand
Duke Recognizes Inferiority
of Russian Forces.

MILITARY experts both in America and abroad agree that the evacuation of fortress after fortress by the Russian grand army is indicative of the fact that the grand duke recognizes the inferiority of the Russian forces to those of the Teutonic allies. It is plain from the dispatches received in this country that Przemysl and Lublin were abandoned without defense and that Kovno was given up after the fall of the outer forts.

Between the lines of the German reports one can read that only a small force was left in Novogeorgievsk for the purpose of preventing the Germans repairing the bridges across the Vistula and preventing any navigation of this river until the main Russian army could make safe its retreat. Ossowetz and Brest Litovsk were held only until the German forces had been abandoned with small rear guards, which, of course, were captured by the born, whizzed past. The indications that something big was doing were confirmed presently by the sight of half a mile of German troops stretching across the plain in parade formation. We were just in time to catch the road when the imperial automobiles heralded the kaiser's coming.

The barren Polish plain and bleak sky overhead now witnessed a gathering of notables perhaps unsurpassed during the war.

While the band with brasses, fifes and drums discoursed march music the kaiser, followed by a brilliant train, walked with a long, firm stride out in front of the victorious troops, standing at rigid attention. It was a provisional brigade of about 10,000 fighters. The bearded landsturm and landwehr infantry formed a double line of field gray figures, dog tired from the hard fighting. Behind them in domestic lines were squadrons and mounted jaegers who had won glory on the Berezina, ulians, cuirassiers—forest of steel fieldglasses. Moreover, this would be exceptionally difficult owing to the kaiser's temperamental style of delivery, which, in intensity of feeling and expression, was reminiscent of Roosevelt, but with more restraint and dignity. He used short, crisp phrases, each with a punch, speaking in a high, clear voice audible a hundred yards away.

With the ring of pride in his voice and mien, he praised the troops for the victory that had crowned their standard with laurels. With great earnestness, tinged with conviction, he spoke of the hard work still to be done by them. Then voice and features softened as he invoked the continued protection of the Lord of hosts. The intensity of his religious feeling stamped with dramatic genuineness words that read plattitudinous when translated into English.

It was almost a physical relief when after the tension the kaiser finished his ten minute talk the brigade commander called for three cheers for "the kaiser and the fatherland" and a triple hurrah from 10,000 throats rolled over the plain.

I looked around to the ruined Russian fort at the back, to the pillars of dense smoke rising from Novogeorgievsk, to the Polish refugees, men, women carrying babes, bedding and household goods, children, dogs, cows and horses straggling along the miry road.

A long, dirty brown line at the back, stretching over the horizon, being the 20,000 prisoners about to enter Germany, added the finishing touch to the wonderful picture.

But there was more to come. The crazy little band played "Hell dir im

WIRELESS PHOTOS ARE TAKEN IN DARK

Indiana Inventor Says Picture
Can Be Made at Long Range.

CLAIMS THEM USEFUL IN WAR

Closely Guards Secret by Which He Says Objects Can Be Photographed a Mile Away on the Darkest Night. Willing to Turn Over His Device to United States Officials.

Arthur Butts, twenty-eight years of age, of Brazil, Ind., has just invented wireless photography. He declares it will be of immense value in warfare, enabling the taking of pictures of forts and armies many miles away, either in the darkest night or the brightest day.

The secrets of this wonderful invention Butts will not divulge, his purpose being to make it impossible for any one to steal the secrets for use of any other nation. Like Edison, he will be quite willing to give the proper authorities full information in case the United States ever becomes involved in war, but he positively refuses to hint at the mechanism or character of his invention.

Tells of His Apparatus.

"With my present apparatus, which is operated by a six cell dry battery," says Butts, "I can stand at the bottom of a deep well, in a mine, for that matter, and take a photograph of an object a mile and a half away."

"And, what is more, the apparatus will register on the photograph the distance in feet from the object photographed to the place where the photographer operates. With high power the photograph may be taken from two to four miles away or even farther, according to the voltage."

To demonstrate the success of his apparatus Butts took a photograph of the Brazil Clay company's plant, a mile and a half away, one dark and rainy night. The photograph is as plain as though it had been taken by a regular camera at a short distance.

Could Work Secretly.

Butts states that in case his invention should be used in warfare he could arrange the apparatus so that none of it could be seen and take as many pictures as he needed without attracting the least attention. He is working on a larger machine, and as soon as it is completed he will demonstrate its power and feasibility for use in warfare before military experts.

He has already received many communications regarding his invention, and many noted inventors have asked to see the demonstration of his claims, but the young inventor has refused to give any information regarding his invention until he has secured certain patents, and then he will demonstrate what can be done with his apparatus before military experts only.

Works on Other Inventions.

Butts already has demonstrated his ingenuity by two inventions. One is a safety device for elevators and mine cages, which has been pronounced the only invention of the kind that has proved a success.

He also is working on an invention which he claims will enable the farmer successfully to fight the Hessian fly. He believes he will have this in a few months. However, he is now devoting his time to his latest and most important invention, wireless photography.

MUST NOT OWN A TRUNK.

Besides Teacher at Humboldt Canyon School Must Be Mule Rider.

Provided Miss Annie Smith will consent to dispense with a trunk and ride a pack mule, she will be employed as a teacher at the Red Point school, in Humboldt canyon, near Tuleville, Cal.

The locality is near the summit of the Sierra, and no wagon road reaches it. Progress is made on foot or by sure footed mules which thread the ribbon of trail leading from Tuleville station.

The school directors especially stipulated that the prospective teacher should not bring a trunk.

The reopening of the school was made necessary by a family with eight children moving into the district.

PRISON STONES, STATUE BASE.

Joan of Arc Monument Will Be Erected in New York.

A statue of Joan of Arc astride her charger in bronze, to be erected at Riverside drive and Ninety-third street, New York, will rest upon a pedestal made from the stones of her prison at Rouen, France. The cost of the monument will be about $25,000 and has been raised entirely by private subscription.

The section of the dungeon of the heroine of France purchased and brought here after the French government had failed to preserve it includes 225 blocks of limestone. Anne Vaughn Hyatt designed the statue.

Double Headed Rescue.

A man had to knock a six-year-old boy from a box car to save him from being crushed against a bridge abutment at Belleville, N. J., and then had to jump into the river and rescue the boy from drowning.

YEAR 1 A. D. FILLED WITH ALL THE GAYETIES OF LIFE.

Ancients Spent $35,000 on Roses and Dined on Forty Dollar Fish Dinner.

The bonstfulness of the modern man over ancient man was punctured at several points by the Rev. Candian M. Coburn, archaeologist of Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., who was one of the speakers at the Bible conference at Winona Lake, Ill.

Mr. Coburn's picture of the citizen of the year 1, or thereabouts, living in ease, luxury and with convenience, is based on his own research and that of other investigators of the earth's pioneers.

Here are some of the things described by Dr. Coburn which existed at the period contemporaneous with the beginning of the Christian era:

Short-hand was as common then as it is now.

Elevators were run in certain palatial homes.

Pipe organs driven by water power were in use.

Plata were for rent.

Roads were built on concrete from three to five feet deep, excelling the best automobile drives of the present day.

Commuters lived in the suburbs of the cities.

Surgical instruments were in use similar to those which a certain American physician invented, not having heard of the ancient instrument.

Ephebus had a library unequalled by any Carnegie has erected.

There were seventy trade unions in Rome and many disputes on wages.

One ancient epistle gave a dinner at which the fish course cost $40 a plate.

Another spent $3,000 for roses.

Another spent $25,000 for rugs.

Dr. Coburn asserted that St. Paul had bow legs and was married.

He was not to be blamed for either fact.

Dr. Coburn said, for he was born with crooked legs and could not escape censure if he declined matrimony, as the ecclesiastical law of his time allowed only married men to vote.

CUPID ROUTS BACHELOR MAIDS

Takes Prisoner Three of Leading Spirits in Man Haters' Club.

Cupid is rattling the ranks of the Independent Order of Bachelor Maids, an organization composed of well known young women of Pittman, N. J., and within the last year three of the leading members have broken their solemn pledges to scorn mere man and have succumbed to the wiles of the little god.

A further blow to the bachelor girl's club has been the announcement of the engagement of Miss Vestina Porch, one of the officers and a leading spirit in the organization, to Harry Edwards of Rustletown, Pa.

KAISER HAS 58 U BOATS.

Neutral Authority Says This Figure Is Correct.

The German undersea fleet comprises fifty-eight submarines, according to a neutral authority who has just returned to Denmark from Germany.

Germany's Baltic fleet, according to the same authority, consists of thirty-eight warships.

Six thousand marines from Kiel have been sent to the eastern fighting front to re-enforce the pioneer service of the army.

THE ATTACK ON RUSSIA'S "SECOND LINE."

Teutons. It is plain that the Russian army, however much weakened, is still strong.

Could Capture Petrograd.

It is equally plain that if the Russian army could not stand on either of its fortress barriers it cannot hope to stand in the open field. There is no room for reasonable doubt that if the kaiser should see fit to make the effort and take the risk he can drive his army to Petrograd.

In this event he takes a double risk. He proceeds far into hostile territory and opens himself to the same kind of counterattack with which the Russians destroyed Napoleon's grand army. He also removes the bulk of his best troops to a very great distance from the western front.

The accompanying map shows the tremendous advances made by the invaders. The evacuation of the fortress of Ossowetz by the Russians cleared the way for the Germans to circle Bialystok (1), south of which the army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria has reached the great forest of Bialowieza. Austrian and German armies then took Brest Litovsk (2), approaching the Lesna river on the north. From Kovol (3) a double movement is being carried out. Austro-German cavalry is moving on Kobrin (4), with the evident intention of cutting the railway from Brest Litovsk to Pinsk, at the same time avoiding the dangers of Pripiet swamp, and the Imperial Russian army advanced along the railway from Kovol to Brest Litovsk. This line in the other direction leads to the important bases of South Russia. In the north the main movement against the "second line" aims at Vilna and possibly beyond that at Minsk, both important railway centers. Below Vladimir Volynsky (5) there is little activity.

Kaiser at Novogeorgievsk.

German joy was unconfined at the fall of Novogeorgievsk. The New York Times correspondent sends the following story about the reception of the kaiser in that fortress city:

By rare good luck I stumbled upon the interesting experience of seeing the kaiser alight for the second time. He had motored from Warsaw to view the fallen fortresses.

When approaching the outer fort on the east front a field gray car containing the war minister, Wild von Hohenlanes, backed by a battery of field artillery.

Wearily veterans were electrified as the kaiser passed up and down the lines, looking them over with keen glances.

Even the Bands Charge.

I had the good fortune once to be close enough to catch a flash of his eyes, for which these men cheerfully die. Then the commanding general shrieked out a high pitched command, that set the whole mass in motion. Cavalry and infantry on both wings charged ahead, the landsturm with leveled bayonets. Even the bandmen charged. A series of evolutions were quickly executed and resulted in a huge square of troops about the kaiser and his retinue. Then a deathlike silence fell on the troops as the kaiser advanced alone to the center of the square. I had a place directly opposite the kaiser, who was not fifty yards away, and I was able through my fieldglasses to mark his every slightest move and the changing shades of expression that mirrored his emotions.

The kaiser wore a gray-green cloth covered spiked helmet, a long and dark greenish gray overcoat, with the hood hanging down the back. The coat as it flapped showed a bright red lining. There were broad red stripes on the trousers of the uniform of a Prussian general. He also wore a leather belt with a revolver in a holster at his left hip. The emperor carried a round handled malacca walking cane, but no sword. His only visible decoration was the blue Order of Pour le Merite at his throat.

Army One Big Family.

This impressive and solitary figure dominated the assembly. A thrill went through the closely packed ranks as he began his address with "beloved troops." This seemed to glorify each one. You felt that these soldiers were one large family and that the kaiser was talking to them as a father. A high staff officer confessed my impression that the kaiser was not delivering a set speech or talking for publication. He was just among his troops in the field, speaking to them from the heart, proud of their achievements, sorrowing for their losses and soliciting for their future and telling them so. Unfortunately I was unable to take down his address verbatim while holding the Siegerkranz" as the kaiser saluted and stalked at attention. Then he walked away to rejoin the group of notables.

Now as the dominant figure the kaiser had to share honors with Von Hindenburg, who outtopped the kaiser by inches. The grim field marshal bowed low as the war lord clasped his hand. The two remained in conversation several minutes.

Then the kaiser talked with and congratulated the mild eyed and boyish faced Von Beseler, the German battering ram, whose gentle appearance is deceiving.

The chief of staff, General von Falkenhayn, and the war minister, Wild von Hohenborn, joined the intimate group with the kaiser's personal entourage of high dignitaries, the civil and military cabinet, staff of generals and other notables hovering near for the impressive economy.

A dozen honor men, heroes of Novogeorgievsk, were presented to the kaiser, who questioned each and shook his hand. Then Von Hindenburg himself pinned iron crosses of the first class to their breasts.

"Well Done!" Says Emperor.

The kaiser's every handiwork said plainer than words, "Well done." Then came a dramatic moment as the kaiser, with a catch in his voice, called out, "Leb' wohl, meine truppen!" ("Farewell, my troops!") Several bearded fighters near me brushed their hands across their eyes, deeply moved. There was many a catch in 10,000 throats as the chorus, "Adieu, majestat," rose and died.

Preceded by a cuirassier bearing the imperial standard, a black eagle on yellow, the kaiser, chatting with the conqueror of Antwerp and Novogeorgievsk, passed through a gap in the human square, followed by Von Hindenburg and others, and walked to waiting automobiles on the road 200 yards away. The kaiser strode with long steps, swinging his cane as he walked. An onlooker could not help being impressed by his tremendous vitality as he entered the automobile and sat down.

Then the kaiser, with General von Beseler beside him and General von Falkenhayn on the front seat, motored into burning Novogeorgievsk to view the forts of the citadel and the war foot.

Mr. George Goins is quite ill of small pox at his home here. The school, Sunday school and all public gatherings have been ordered stopped by the Board of Health. The protracted meeting at the Baptist church has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Timothy W. Payne and Miss Nannie Carpenter were united in the holy bonds of matrimony last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship. Rev. E. B. Thornton was the officiating minister and rendered a very impressive ceremony so those present testify. The wedding came as quite a surprise to their many friends who were aware that they were quietly courting but did not consider their intentions as being serious. But Cupid will have his inning and none are proof against the arrows of Hymen's helper, and staid bachelors are not immune. The groom is the youngest son of the late Wm. Payne and was reared here and is known as one of our hardest working young men, honest, sober and a gentleman in every respect. While a capital hand at any kind of work he excels as a carpenter and a fellow has to hustle to keep up with him. His bride is the youngest daughter of the late David Carpenter and is an accomplished young house-keeper, a good cook and worthy of the man of her choice. We extend our heartiest congratulations to the happy young couple and hope they will never know sorrow and life will be one unending song.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Lancaster Citizens.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Lancaster adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

W. C. Davis, tailor, Danville Pike Lancaster, says: "My kidneys were disordered and I suffered from aching pains across the small of my back. The irregular kidney action obliged me to rise at night. I have considerable bending to do in my work and I became easily tired and languid. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me."

Another Message To the Business Men of Lancaster

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted. Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend

Phoenix White Lead

(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil, mixed right on the job, to suit the job. Have your painter tint it any color you wish.

We carry all other paint necessities also. Consult us on that job of painting you have in mind. Today's the day.
